

Abu Dhabi Airport Free Zone

Abu Dhabi Airports Company (ADAC), the owner and operator of Abu Dhabi International Airport was incorporated in March 2006 to spearhead a major redevelopment of the Emirate's aviation infrastructure. ADAC is set to establish a logistics park next to the airport which is planned to operate as a free zone facility. Its creation marks a milestone in Abu Dhabi's plans to establish itself as a dynamic business centre.

The creation of the logistics park at Abu Dhabi Airport is aligned with ADAC's objective of financing its Airport development programme, generating non-aeronautical revenues, and minimizing Government grants.
